NETWORK

My membership in Midwest ACE has been a foundational aspect of my career in Career Services. Experiencing a Midwest ACE Annual Conference was one of my first professional activities in the field, and the benefits from mentoring and networking relationships have continued to this day. Midwest ACE provides college and employer professionals with amazing leadership and involvement opportunities, as well as relevant and cutting-edge educational content.

Jason Eckert, Executive Director
University of Dayton Career Services

MWACE is a great organization to make professional connections with peer institutions and regional employers. As with any organization, you get what you put into it so I suggest joining a committee that is close to your passions. I love connecting people and learning new things so I enjoy the site visit committee.

Jean Drasgow, Director of Career Services
College of ACES, University of Illinois at Urbana-Champaign
